An ounce of prevention...$126,000,000 a year

Prevention care and treatment is a major contributing factor to the high standard of public health in Alberta. Your Department of Public Health maintains diagnostic and treatment clinics for cancer, cervical polyp, mental health, rheumatoid arthritis, social hygiene and tuberculosis.

The Department co-operates with, and assists financially, local Health Units and city Health Departments throughout the province to provide services to infants and pre-school children... school health programs... investigation of outbreaks of communicable diseases... immunization of all age groups.

For whooping cough, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, tetanus and measles... supervision of community sanitation... pollution control... and health education programs.

The estimated cost to maintain this program of preventive care and treatment this year amounts to $126,000,000 - 25c per day for every man, woman and child in Alberta. A small price to pay compared to the high cost of cure.

And when illness does strike, Albertans find it comforting to know that they can receive the finest hospital care for a maximum of $10.00 per day.

LION PAST PRESIDENT ERNE GILL REVIEWS PAST YEAR

Yellow Lions, another year in the life of our club has become history. I would like to perform one of my last duties as President of this club, that is to present you with my report of the main events within our club for the past year.

I would like to thank each and every one of you for the very fine co-operation which I have received throughout the year. A very special thanks to Lion Bert Denner who has worked very hard on our many projects. He has spent many hours on the Lion West Valley Park.

It was a great honour to work with the executive which you provided me with for the past year. The interest they showed was tremendous and each of them was ready and willing to do his full share. At times our executive meetings had nearly as large a turnout as our general meetings.

Our membership suffered one of the worst years in the history of our club. We lost 17 members over the past year. We took 14 new members.

The Chapel Hour

Sight to the Blind

One thing I know, that, whom I was blind, now I see.

By Rev. E. Gilmore Smith

IT WAS natural that beggars should gather on the Sabbath near the temple where worshippers thronged the streets. If any should have had compassion for the poor and afflicted, surely it was the people who had come to praise the God of mercy and of grace. In the four times, the man was very much in evidence for there were no institutions such as we have today to care for the crippled and deformed. Affluent people are so well hidden nowadays that many folk are scarcely aware of their existence.

The blind man had lost a treasure that cannot be computed in terms of dollars. With eyesight gone the world was dark. The smiles of his friends, were all beyond his personal experience. To earn food and clothes and shelter, was beyond his power. There was little or no provision made to help.

The people of long ago worshipped the sun as the giver of light. We in the Christian faith use light as a symbol, and speak of the light of knowledge and the darkness of ignorance; of light as a symbol of good and darkness as a symbol of evil. The New Testament speaks of Jesus as the light and morning star, and the Light of the world. We sing the hymn:

Christ whose glory fills the skies,
Christ, the true, the only Light;
Sun of righteousness, arise!
Triumph o'er the shades of night."

The Ministry of Light

What does light do? It reveals what is around us. A man stumbling along a path in darkness will wander into obstacles. The blackouts of wartime were an awful experience for those through. Even a candle or a shaded flashlight might reveal too much.

Light shows up the shadows. When all is dark the shadows cannot be perceived. Jesus, the Light of the world, shows us shadows of sin and selfishness and pride which had gone unperceived. The nearer we live to Christ, the more will we be sensitive to our sin. We will see the darkness of sin with a vividness and possible before.

Light gives life. Sunlight is at the base of all life on this planet. Deprive plants of light, and they sicken and die. All living things must have light. Even fish that live deep down in underground caves, and have lost their power of sight, must have the life-giving chemicals which trickle down from the surface, where they live in light.

So Jesus is a continuing power which can transform the sinner into a saint. Those who have been dead in trespasses and sin, are led to repentance, and upon their hearts is the new life of Jesus the Savior.

A Personal Testimony

The blind man of the story needed help and he believed Jesus could meet this need. His confidence was not misplaced. Jesus' compassion and healing power were sufficient to restore sight to blind eyes, and the blind man was sent out into the world to testify.

"One thing I know: once I was blind, but now I see."

There was much about the healing that baffled explanation — much he could not understand, but of its reality there was no doubt. Personal testimony carries weight far beyond the eloquent words of the absent evangelist.

St. John tells the story of the blind man whose eyes were opened because many were blind to the spiritual claims of Jesus, and perceived not their own need of redemption and cleansing which God had provided. Few of us are physically blind, but many live in spiritual twilight or the darkness of rebellion against God's holy will, and have not perceived in Jesus the Way and the Truth and the Life.

"O glory of the lighted mind,
How dark I'd been, how dark, how blind.
The sunken brook, in my new eyes,
Was bubbling out of Paradise.
The waters rushing from the rain
Were singing Christ has risen again.
Out of the mist into the light,
O blessed gift of inner sight!"

— John Macfield

SCOOPE Notebook

Ton Johnson, of Johnson Insurance Service, was inducted into the membership of Glendon International in Canada, at a meeting of Glendon International Camp, held at Ralph Jenson's farm in the Stoney Plain district, Monday, June 14th.

The Glendon are an organization dedicated to the distribution of Bibles and New Testament in Hindi, Malay, Sinhalese, and other languages.

Our Reporter in Stagg, Yukon Territory, has evidently been to King's and back again.

You will remember that during the past winter of Alberta Ice and Snow we printed a poem written by our Stagg correspondent telling about the current heat wave in Stagg in which the thermometer had gone up to 65 below zero.

In the mail recently we received a very witty little package.

Our opening name we found a very large nut, with a large number of little nuts exactly soldered to it. A message across the top of the big nut says: "NUTS TO YOU!"

The accompanying message says: "Paperweight... with Convolutions from the Mayor and Citizens of Stagg, Y.T."

RAFT RACE

Joe Byckel at the Royal Bank is planning a raft race to replace the Gully Rat Race.

Objects of the Raft Race will be to run the Saskatchewan River for four or five miles on the Saturday morning, July 10th, after the regular canoe race with raft and pole and float down the river to the campsite at the bridge.

Four couples have already been recruited, representing more than four hundred people who are willing to risk their all for dear old R. R. K. (Klondike Kamenka) that is not the Klondike Klan.

If you want to enter this race call Joe, "Buck" at the Bank and get your name in.

We understand, but to far this is only an unconfirmed rumor. That the boys in the Royal are going to battle the boys in the "Stagg" branch to the death (if necessary) to show Royal's superior craftsmanship.

We haven't yet learned what the quoted odds are, but our money is on the winner.

Evansburg NEWS

EVANSBURG

Play blago. Strike it rich. That is just what Mr. A. Hadley and Mrs. Cecile Munst did recently. Mrs. Munst won a double jackpot at Wildwood and Mrs. Munst won at Evansburg.

If the village residents were called at all the yelling and castle bellying down at 7:00 a.m. place last Wednesday, it certainly was a raucous, Mr. T. with the help of some of the local boys was to send the God Eye camp to a new pasture.

The Sept. 17, U.A. local held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lambart on June 18. Ed Lambart was decided on to attend the God Eye camp from this local. The next meeting will be on July 21 at the Holy Spring Hall and a blago will follow.

The presence of a bright red fire truck last night to a fire drill held at Evansburg school recently. The truck, driving up to the school as the fire alarm were still ringing made the children think a real fire had started at last.

In spite of these thoughts, the children were very orderly and the school was evacuated in good time. Thanks go to Mr. Frank, the principal, who had raised the children during previous fire drills.

Mrs. H. Creager recently visited the Mr. Greager who is in the Edmonton Hospital. She reports that he is feeling much better but will likely be some time before he is able to come home.

COOKING MAGIC

Tried Recipes and Meal Plans - Ideas Prepared for Drayton Valley leaders by the Home Service Department of Northwestern Utilities, Limited

PICNICS
The picnic is back in style in Canada again. A few precautions are always in order concerning food spoilage on picnics. Some foods are quite hazardous in the warm weather if they are left unrefrigerated, for any length of time. These include wetness, ground meat, salads, sandwiches, milkshakes, milk, cream, etc. These foods should be kept in the cooler until the last minute or buy them just before you need them. Salads and sandwich fillings should be prepared just before serving time.

MEAT AND POTATOES

1/2 lb. potatoes, cooked, drained and cooled
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tsp. chopped pimiento
1/4 cup mayonnaise or cooked dressing
3 tsp. white vinegar
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/8 tsp. pepper

Cut each fradicator into 8 slices. Slice potatoes, in large bowl, toss fradicator with potatoes, onion and pimiento. In small bowl, blend mayonnaise with salt, vinegar, mustard, and pepper. Toss with fradicator and potato mixture until well combined. Refrigerate salad until it is well chilled, about 1 hour or until serving time. Serves 6.

CHICKEN AND CORN

1/4 cup sharp Canadian cheese cut into cubes
1 tsp. mayonnaise or salad dressing
8 oz. canned corned beef, drained finely
1/4 cup relish
2 tsp. onion
Worcestershire sauce

Cream the cheese with mayonnaise; add remaining ingredients. Spread between slices of brown bread. The sandwiches may be toasted or may be served with sliced tomatoes and lettuce between the layers.

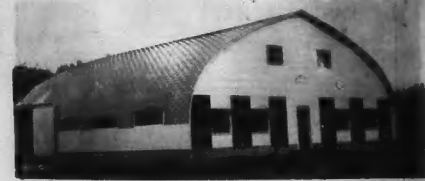

BUNNY BUTTER TARTS

1 cup butter
3/4 cup corn syrup
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup raisins or currants
1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. salt
1 egg

Beat egg slightly and mix with rest of ingredients. Melt butter and add. Spoon into unbaked tart shells. Fill the half. Bake at 425°F. for 32 to 35 minutes. Makes 18 tarts.

FUDGE RIBBON CAKE

3 cups butter
8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. cornstarch
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups plus 3 tsp. milk
1 cup butter, room temperature
1/2 cup vanilla extract
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
4 oz. melted chocolate (1/2 cup)

CANADA'S NEW LABOUR CODE/Hon. Allan Rock, Minister of Labour, answers some questions:

"Our new Canada Labour Code has been called a 'first'. Mr. MacEachen. Would you agree?"

"Briefly, who does this new Code apply to?"

"Let's get down to specifics. What, exactly, does it promise to those employees who are affected by it?"

"You said the new Code applies to industries under Federal jurisdiction. Would you name them?"

"Yes, and it is one of the most all-embracing. Canada has a right to be proud of it. It sets higher standards than have been set for any other country I know. Other countries are taking note of the way Canadian Parliament is ensuring that more workers share in this country's growth."

"It applies to industries which fall under Federal jurisdiction—and may well prove to be a guide for other industries. The Government itself, which is a large employer in its own right, will take the lead by applying the Code's standards to its own federal employees."

"As we said, it sets minimum standards—and I stress that these are minimum, because, of course, a lot of workers already enjoy higher standards than the Code sets. First, it sets a standard 8 hour day and a 40 hour week, with overtime limited to 8 hours a week, and paid for at time-and-a-half."

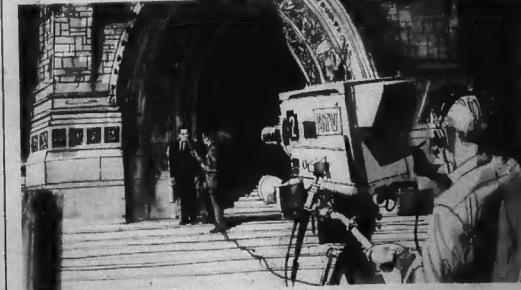

Second, it sets the minimum wage rate for all men and women over 17 years of age at $12.50 an hour.

Next, it provides for two weeks annual vacation with pay, after one year's service; or 4% of wages as vacation pay for those with from 30 days to a year's service.

Finally, it stipulates that each employee shall get eight statutory holidays with pay a year—or get a full day off in lieu of the holiday."

"The Code covers interprovincial or international rail and highway transport, primary fishing where the fishermen work for wages, air transport, radio and TV, shipping, banks, uranium mining, grain elevators, flour and feed mills and warehousing, stock cleaning mills, interprovincial or international pipelines and ferries, interprovincial or international telegraph and telephones, most Crown corporations and one or two other smaller industries."

If you are not sure whether you are covered by the Canada Labour (Standards) Code, write to Department of Labour, Ottawa.

REPRINTED FROM THE FORT McMURRAY BANNER

HERE'S TO THE NORTHERN MAN.

Here's to the hardy northern man who travelled the trackless space. Who carried supplies to the outposts far beyond civilization's edge. Loneliness and heart-breaking labor were his constant and only rewards. Except for the "knowing" that he carried off a tough, hard job well done. As he travelled the rolling river. Or paced the tough bushland trail.

Turn your eyes to the North. O Canadian. For there shall your future unfold. A roadstead to keep have you. A meeting with Destiny. For future decades and centuries. Belongs to the North and to you. Hard, cold, clear though she might be. Yet the North holds riches untold.

Treasure troves rest in her bosom. Awaiting your questing search.

Now the sky pioneers are unravelling. The skein of the tortured North. But only a few years separate Men who travelled by foot, boat or dogteam From those who travel the air.

There is the same trail-blazing impulse. Responding to the Call of the North. Responding to the Sorealis challenge. As the flares her banners of the north. As she flaunts her flaming sky banner. Her challenge to the Men of the North.

A Playford.

"ROUND AND ROUND WE GO..." picture to left shows the Oilers celebrating over the past weekend. Upper picture is the merry-go-round which is just slipping to unload and reload merry-making youngsters. Even attendants on the merry-go-round are bearded blondians.

Right-hand picture shows newly installed Lions' president Stu Luman as he spoke to the Lions Club immediately after his induction into his new office by former president Alf Armstrong.

Stu, and the others pictured on page 1 were installed into their offices for the coming season of Lionsism at their regular meeting on Thursday, June 23.

Incorporated in last president's report is an account of what the local Lions Club has accomplished in the past year. It is quite an impressive record.

LITTLE FOLK MAKE BIG PICTURES

You're probably sat back from time to time, watching the children in a "cute" situation, and thought what a good photograph that moment would have made. There's no reason why you can't take such pictures at any time. Just keep your camera handy and loaded with film, so you'll be ready for those "candid" everyone will enjoy.

Now that the weather is approaching its summertime heat, you'll have many opportunities to snap outdoor photos of your own family or the wee neighbors. Just keep your eyes open for the "unposed" moments.

You'll soon discover dozens of picture opportunities wherever there are children. A girl talking to her dog, a boy feeding his favorite girl friend, little fingers clutching a baseball bat. The list is endless—the picture possibilities are endless.

Remember that lively, story-telling phone interest most everyone. Sometimes, you may have to wait for the right picture-taking moment. As other times, you can encourage a natural scene by using familiar surroundings and objects.

Once the children are absorbed in their play, choose an interesting viewpoint. Shoot, snap-up, concentrating on the youngsters. Move around, keeping one eye on the viewfinder.

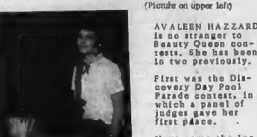

Your subjects "freeze" in front of the lens! Then, lay the camera down and wait until everyone has forgotten about it. Later, when your subjects are relaxed and natural once again, the time is ripe for snapping.

Remember that children grow up quickly. So take pictures of the youngsters today. You'll be glad you did tomorrow.
